

Let's take a closer look at the narrator of "The Tell-Tale Heart." After reading through the story one more time, I want you to write a paragraph explaining whether you believe the narrator is insane (mad) or just a heartless, mean man. You will be reading your response to the class next week; be convincing!