Please think over the problem below:

1. The friction coefficient between the rope and the cylinder is μ. The rope is in contact with the cylinder along the circular arc encompassing angle Θ (see the picture). Force F_0 is applied to one and of the rope. Find the force one must apply to the other end to counterbalance F_0?